PRESIDENT SUSPENDS SOME NAVIGATION LAWS

Final Steps for Opening Foreign Craft Registry Are Taken

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The final step for opening the registry of foreign built merchant crafts was taken at the White House tonight when the president signed an executive order suspending from operation the sections of the navigation laws, as authorized by the new registry bill.

These require American watch officers on American ships and that inspection and measurement for registry shall be made by United States officials. At the marine insurance bureau, which was open for business, it was expected that applications for a change of register, and for war risk protection would follow quickly on signing the suspension order.

By the president's order the section of the navigation laws requiring inspection and measurement by United States officials is suspended for two years. The section referring to watch officers is changed to permit foreign officers now serving on ships seeking American registry, to hold their positions for seven years, while foreign watch officers hereafter employed on such ships may serve for two years.

HEAR THE DOGS BARK THE CIRCUS IS COMING TO-TOWN

Hark! Hark! the dogs do bark! The circus is coming to town. Everything is ready for the coming of the Barnum & Bailey circus to Phoenix for two performances only, September 21, afternoon and evening.

Every schoolboy in the land knows that the Barnum & Bailey circus is a national institution and that his respective native heath suffers a terrible calamity if the "Greatest Show on Earth" fails to pay it an annual visit. The elation of the school kiddies knows no bounds now that they know the circus will be shown here.

Barnum & Bailey circus management proudly announces that everything is new except the name, and that is so well known to every city and port that it would be like slicing the world in two to separate that name from American citizenship. As long as there's an American youth the name of Barnum & Bailey will exist. Its place in the amusement world has become so established that to get along without it would be like doing without the stable government at Washington, D. C.

There's an adage that "the proof of the pudding is the eating," and to show them that Barnum & Bailey's circus was offering the biggest square deal of show management the management took the circus into Madison Square Garden, New York, where thousands of people were entertained afternoon and night. "Once seen, never forgotten," goes for the Barnum & Bailey circus this season, as it spells the last word in circus realm.

Novelties galore are to be found with the big show this year, not including the array of acts are many from Europe, which were imported especially for the present tour. The circus has a world of amusement features, wealth of circus colors, a menagerie of the wildest beasts imaginable, a regiment of clowns, numerous equestrian features, an army of performing animals from the jungles, caves and plains, popular music played by augmented bands, in fact, a million of things that can only be found under the "canvases" of the big show.

A wonderfully brilliant pageant, "The Wizard Prince of Arabia," is a sumptuous eye feast of kaleidoscopic splendor, teeming with life, action and color; a realistic reproduction of the iridescent days of the land of a "Thousand and One Nights," blazed its way through the pages of ancient and modern history. This thrilling, spectacular and colossal affair is just one of the diverse big features with the Barnum & Bailey circus.

If there is one thing in this wide, wide world that will make the old young and send the adult back to the heyday of youth, when he revelled in the circus merriment and circus spectacles, it is unquestionably the circus. Multifarious mysteries of amusement world, mysteries that will drive the diplomatic, dignified, decorous denizens into frenzy of delight are with the Barnum & Bailey circus—the fountain of perpetual youth.

ELEVEN MINERS TRAPPED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
MCALISTER, Okla., Sept. 4.—Eleven miners are imprisoned to-night in a mine of the Union Coal company at Adamson, Okla., as the result of a cave in which blocked the mine entrance. Rescuers are digging through the wall of an adjoining mine and it is believed the trapped men will be rescued within a few hours.

WARSHIP NEAR LOS ANGELES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—Shortly before noon an unknown warship appeared off Point Pinos, where the British tank steamer Cordelia is pumping out ballast preparatory to loading oil for Panama. The warship disappeared toward San Diego without showing her colors. The Cordelia is inside the three mile limit. The warship had three funnels.

"I think I'll swipe this for the description of the heroine in my proposed novel."
"What is it?"
"I pinched it from the society editor. A lady sent me telling how she looked at her garden party."—Courier-Journal.

ORGANIZE RESERVE BANKS

Federal Board Announces Will Proceed with Work Immediately

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—After an all-day conference with clearing house delegates from many large cities, the federal reserve board announced to-night it would proceed immediately with the organization of twelve reserve banks provided for by the new currency system. Although predictions were lacking, it is generally accepted the system can be put in operation by about October 1. The actual opening may be delayed, but it is said that twelve banks will be ready for business within the next six weeks.

According to members of the board there was little hostility shown at the conference to the early opening of the system. A committee was named to consider foreign and domestic exchange and formulate a plan by which American obligations to Europe may be adjusted without taking gold out of the country.

SAY GERMANS CHECKED

man emperor and ask him for a plain declaration of what his intentions are with regard to all treaties signed in his behalf at The Hague. Those agreements are shamelessly disregarded, so that no earnest man can now place any trust in German promises." The newspaper says that Englishmen, no matter what Emperor William's answer might be, would have no thought of reprisals, adding that there must be no policy of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

The Times in an editorial this morning compares the prompt manner in which German authorities treat dispatches filed by Italian correspondents on the progress of the war with the delays, amounting from twenty-four to forty-eight hours, which the British censorship imposes on both Italian and American newspaper correspondents in England. As a result, the so-called German news, the Times declares, gets a long start throughout the world and to the United States over news reciting the operations of the allies.

"No time is to be lost if this regrettable and indeed dangerous situation is to be remedied," the Times says. "The war may last long, it may affect the very existence of the empires and countries involved in it. It is not too much to ask our government to spare neither pains nor money to insure that neutral countries, whose attitude may at critical moments be of vital importance, may not be left without authentic and veracious information of the progress of the war and of the fortunes of the allied armies."

A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Bern says: "A German girl spy was arrested yesterday by English soldiers on the bridge over the Olse river at Lacroix. She had in her possession plans of all the roads and bridges from Paris. She looked to be not more than 17 years old. A German spy in English uniform was caught the same day and shot immediately by an English officer because he made a gesture as if to take something out of his pocket instead of obeying an order to throw up his hands."

Ulsterites Enlist

BELFAST, Sept. 4.—Within an hour after opening the recruiting office for Ulster volunteers, 700 men of the North Belfast regiment enlisted for foreign service. Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Ulster unionists later addressed a battalion of volunteers assuring the men "that sufficient volunteers would remain in Ulster to protect it from invasion. It will remain in the province for you until you return."

MUST MEET WAR

It is estimated that a five per cent tax would raise $40,000,000. Chairman Underwood said a list of taxable articles will be formed by a process of elimination and submitted to the treasury department early next week for estimates on the amounts they will raise. When the bill is completed it will be brought into the house under a special rule and hurried through.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN LIGHTLY ATTIRED

All those who saw Protea at the Plaza theater a few weeks ago will not miss the wonderful special picture that is showing there on Monday under the title "The Decree of the Gods," in which the same young woman and a number of other beautiful women take most exciting parts. The picture is based upon a heathen story and in consequence the amount of apparel worn by the ladies is of the income-quantal variety in that there is very little of it. This, coupled with the fact that the girls are models of beauty and grace, will add greatly to the picture. It is the story of the pursuit of a sacred necklace something after the order of Flaubert's great story of Salambo, where a sacred veil was pursued into the camps of the barbarians. The picture is in four reels and should not be missed by lovers of the beautiful.

Lamson Business College

28 West Washington Street, Phoenix, Arizona, will open the fall term of its 26th year

Monday, September 14th

The thoroughness of the courses offered at the Lamson Business College, can best be judged by the fact that the College was unable to supply the demand for Bookkeepers and Stenographers, during the past year, while scores who had taken courses in other schools were hunting for positions.

Hundreds of the most successful, young and middle-aged business men, farmers and stockmen of Arizona, were among its former students.

For full information, call at the College Office or write to E. M. Lamson, President.
